

Communist Fall Behind In France; RPF Leads

Paris, Oct. 20 (AP)—Candidates nominated by Gen. Charles De Gaulle's six-month old Rally of the French People (RPF), were leading in 29 out of 37 major municipalities today as returns from yesterday's balloting rolled in from all over France.

De Gaulle's party held a substantial lead over all other parties, including the Communists, in the early returns.

"There's no doubt about it. De Gaulle has won," said Maurice Schuman, Parliamentary leader of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP), which lost ground heavily in yesterday's voting. De Gaulle's RPF, although leading the Communists, did not appear to have gained Communist voting strength in any substantial amount.

Some Cities In Doubt

Running on an anti-Communist platform, and competing in a French election for the first time, RPF was averaging between 33 and 40 per cent of the total vote, as against 26 to 38 per cent for the Communists, 19 per cent for the Socialists and less than 10 per cent for the MRP.

In the last municipal elections, MRP fought it out with the Communists.

The eight large communities where the issue remained in doubt were Toulouse, Rennes, Besancon, Beauvais, Grenoble, Nancy, Lille and Angers.

Not On Ballot

Sunday's balloting was held to choose municipal councils in 32,000 French localities. An estimated 25,000,000 votes were cast.

In any event, their early returns apparently meant that Gen. De Gaulle, who has been something of a political mystery man since he quit as head of the provisional government in January, 1946, had made a real political comeback.

As one token of this comeback, he was elected mayor of the village of Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, polling 112 out of 158 votes, even though he was not a candidate and his name was not on the ballot.

BANISHED FROM COUNTY, MAN IS FREED BY COURT

Wilmer Willis, Palm City, Fla., a fruit picker employed by John W. Bream, Orrtanna R. D., earlier this month and charged by Mr. Bream with surety of the peace, was found guilty in court here this morning as charged but escaped a jail sentence when the court suspended sentence on condition that Willis leave Adams county and never return. He was directed to pay the costs of the prosecution.

The testimony in the case was to the effect that Willis was cautioned by Bream against shaking apples from the top of a tree where he was picking and that Willis then asked for his money. He later started an altercation over the amount. It was alleged, and made threats against Bream and others.

Robert Bupp, Aspers, charged with desertion and non-support, was directed by the court to pay $15 a week to the support of his wife, Kathleen and pay the costs of the case.

Mother's Support Ordered

Three brothers, William Y. Fleck, Wynabrook; James G. Fleck, Gettysburg; and Murray H. Fleck, of Gettysburg, Pa., were ordered to pay $7 a week a piece for the support of their mother, Mrs. Mary M. Fleck, 22 York street. They are also to pay the costs.

On a motion for an increase in the amount of a support order previously granted, Oscar Barnes, Gettysburg, was directed to pay his wife, Ida, $12 a week instead of $10 for her support and that of their two children. The new rate is effective as of this date. Mrs. Barnes testified that the previous amount was not sufficient.

In the case of Donald E. MacPherson, Gettysburg, charged by his wife, Catherine, with non-support the charge was dismissed but an old case was continued to November 14, to give the couple an opportunity to "go back together." Both expressed a willingness to adjust their differences.

Knox Is Dismissed

A surety of the peace charge filed by his wife against Mildred Knox, Gettysburg, was ordered dismissed on payment of the costs, when Knox told the court he intended to join the army.

TROOP 88 WINS SCOUT BANNER AT CAMP MEET

The Castown-Fairfield-Orrtanna troop, Number 88, won the attendance banner Sunday afternoon at a picnic meeting of the Black Walnut District committee-men and scoutmasters at the South Mountain Memorial Boy Scout camp near Dillsburg. All members of Troop 88 committee were present as was the scoutmaster.

During a business session, Scout Executive Jack Watson explained to the district officials plans for the development of the scout council camp and showed a map of the location of various proposed buildings to be erected in the area. The scouters also inspected a concrete swimming pool already constructed, work being done on construction of a concrete block main lodge, the newly completed hospital and several other buildings in various stages of construction.

An attendance goal of 1,000 scouts was set for next year's camping there. This year, because of inability to complete structures on the new camp, activities were confined to tent camping.

Plan District Memorial

The area in the camp to be a memorial to the Black Walnut District war veterans was being plotted today, with Watson telling the group Sunday the general area in which it will be located. A lodge and smaller structures to fit the area for camping will be constructed within the Black Walnut section. Communists
Fall Behind
In France;
RPF Leads

Paris, Oct. 20 (AP)—Candidates nominated by Gen. Charles De Gaulle's six-month old Rally of the French People (RPF) were leading in 29 out of 37 major municipalities today as returns from yesterday's balloting rolled in from all over France.

De Gaulle's party held a substantial lead over all other parties, including the Communists, in the early returns.

"There's no doubt about it, De Gaulle has won," said Maurice Schuman, Parliamentary leader of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP) which lost ground heavily in yesterday's voting. De Gaulle's RPF, although leading the Communists, did not appear to have denied Communist voting strength in any substantial amount.

Some Cities In Doubt

Running on an anti-Communist platform, and competing in a French election for the first time, RPF was averaging between 33 and 40 per cent of the total vote, as against 26 to 28 per cent for the Communists, 19 per cent for the Socialists and less than 10 per cent for the MRP.

In the last municipal elections, MRP fought it out with the Communists.

The eight large communities where the issue remained in doubt were Toulon, Rennes, Besancon, Beauvais, Grenoble, Nancy, Lille and Angers.

Not On Ballot

Sunday's balloting was held to choose municipal councils in 38,000 French localities. An estimated 25,000,000 votes were cast.

In any event, the early returns apparently meant that Gen. De Gaulle, who has been something of a political mystery man since he quit as head of the provisional government in January, 1946, had made a real political comeback.

As one token of this comeback, he was elected mayor of the village of Colombey-les-Deux-Églises, polling 112 out of 168 votes, even though he was not a candidate and his name was not on the ballot.

FREED BY COURT

Wilmer Wills, Palm City, Fla., a fruit picker employed by John W. Bream, Orrtanna R. D., earlier this month and charged by Mr. Bream with surety of the peace, was found guilty in court here this morning as charged but escaped a jail sentence when the court suspended sentence on condition that Wills leave Adams county and never return. He was directed to pay the costs of the prosecution.

The testimony in the case was to the effect that Wills was cautioned by Bream against shaking apples from the top of a tree where he was picking and that Wills then asked for his money. He later started an altercation over the amount, it was alleged, and made threats against Bream and others.

Robert Bupp, Aspers, charged with desertion and non-support, was directed by the court to pay $15 a week to the support of his wife, Kathleen and pay the costs of the case.

Three brothers, William Y. Fleck, Waynsboro; James G. Fleck, Gettysburg, and Murray H. Fleck, of Gatchellville, Pa., were ordered to pay $7 a week a piece for the support of their mother, Mrs. Mary M. Fleck, 22 York street. They are also to pay the costs.

On a motion for an increase in the amount of a support order previously granted, Oscar Barnes, Gettysburg, was directed to pay his wife, Ida, $12 a week instead of $10 for her support and that of their two children. The new rate is effective as of this date. Mrs. Barnes testified that the previous amount was not sufficient.

In the case of Donald E. MacPherson, Gettysburg, charged by his wife, Catherine, with non-support, the charge was dismissed but an old case was continued to November 14, to give the couple an opportunity to "go back together." Both expressed a willingness to adjust their differences.

Knox Is Dismissed
A surety of the peace charge filed by his wife against Milford Knox, Gettysburg, was ordered dismissed on payment of the costs, when Knox told the court he intended to join the army.

Mrs. Knox told the court that she agreed to this disposition and had urged her husband to go back in the service. He had served ten years previously, she said.

D., suffered a fracture of the right leg and contusions of the thigh Saturday evening at 5 o'clock when, according to state police, his car struck a parked vehicle 1½ miles north of Benderville on the Wexville road and then smashed into another car approaching from the opposite direction. A charge of driving too fast for conditions is to be placed against him before a county justice of the peace.

Also injured in the crash was Perry D. Sheaffer, 16, Biglerville R. 1, who suffered a deep laceration of the left knee. He was discharged today from the hospital where he was admitted Saturday.

Police said Weaver, who was headed north, rounded a curve and struck the parked car of Harvey Jacob Gochenauer, Biglerville R. 1 and then struck the approaching Sheaffer vehicle.

Martin, president of the Adams County Fish and Game association, today reminded those securing the signatures that the hunters need place only their signature on the petition and do not have to place the number of their hunting license. At the treasurer's office at the court house here about 70 signatures had been secured up to this morning.

SCOUT BANNER
AT CAMP MEET

The Cashtown-Fairfield-Orrtanna troop, Number 88, won the attendance banner Sunday afternoon at a picnic meeting of the Black Walnut District committee-men and scoutmasters at the South Mountain Memorial Boy Scout camp near Dillsburg. All members of Troop 88 committee were present as was the scoutmaster.

During a business session, Scout Executive Jack Watson explained to the district officials plans for the development of the scout council camp and showed a map of the location of various proposed buildings to be erected in the area. The scouters also inspected a concrete swimming pool already constructed, work being done on construction of a concrete block main lodge, the newly completed hospital and several other buildings in various stages of construction.

An attendance goal of 1,000 scouts was set for next year's camping there. This year, because of inability to complete structures on the new camp, activities were confined to tent camping.

Plan District Memorial
The area in the camp to be a memorial to the Black Walnut District war veterans was being plotted today, with Watson telling the group Sunday the general area in which it will be located. A lodge and smaller structures to fit the area for camping will be constructed within the Black Walnut section. The money to be used will be that donated from the Black Walnut district during last year's financial campaign.

Dean W. E. Tilberg, chairman of the district, presided. Among those attending the picnic session held for the scouters and their families were Dean and Mrs. Tilberg, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Tilberg, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Codori, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemler, Mrs. Rosalee McCauslin, Mr. and Mrs. Leo McDermitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carter, Mrs. J. Girl Scouts Appeal For Aid;
Close Finance Drive Saturday

While each Girl Scout troop will commemorate Girl Scout week this week with special programs the adult committees of each troop will conduct a concentrated effort to close the financial campaign which started last July. The drive will close Saturday night.

"We are several thousands dollars short of our goal and unless we receive more financial support this year we will not be able to carry on our expansion program and we will not be able to engage a full-time executive director," one officer of the Girl Scouts said.

A house-to-house canvass of Gettysburg will be made and each adult committee in each community in the county will do the same in an effort to attain the goal of $8,400.

The canvass in Gettysburg will be conducted by the following committee members: Mrs. Bruce Wolff, Mrs. Harold Reuning, Mrs. Lawrence E. Oyler, Mrs. Hazel Saunders, Mrs. Ralph D. Wickerham, Mrs. Mervin Bream, Mrs. Ralph Barley, Mrs. William Tyson, Mrs. Milton Plank, Mrs. George F. Eberhart and Mrs. Steckel. These women will appoint solicitors to assist them in the canvass and their names will be announced on Wednesday.

"The Girl Scouts need financial help. They need the support of everyone in the county and each contribution, regardless of the amount, will be gratefully appreciated," a Girl Scout officer said.

Says 'Un-American' Writers
Have Infiltrated Hollywood

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Jack L. Warner, Hollywood movie producer, told the House committee on un-American activities today that people "with un-American leaning" have infiltrated into the movie industry.

But he carefully declined to say under questioning from committee members that these people are Communists and insisted on using the description "un-American."

When Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee, wanted to know where Communists have invaded the film capital, Warner said: "The answer is that there are people with un-American leaning."

They are mostly in the "writing division," Warner added.

"I know they're un-American in their method," he went on, explaining that they endeavor to put into

M'SHERRYSTOWN
WINS 'BISHOP'S
TROOP' HONORS

The McSherrystown Catholic Boy Scout troop Sunday afternoon was named "The Bishop's Troop" at the sixth annual dedication of the Catholic Boy Scouts of the Harrisburg diocese to Christ, their Leader. The service was held in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Harrisburg, with about 1,500 scouts and leaders present from the 15 counties in the diocese.

Monsignor Patrick P. McGee, pastor of the Annunciation of Our Blessed Lady parish, of McSherrystown, and the troop there, were praised by Bishop Leech prior to the presentation of the flag given annually to the troop designated by the bishop as the best in the diocese and which acts as the bishop's personal guard of honor during the year.

One hundred and twenty-six scouts and 25 scouters were present from the Adams county Catholic troops, with Gettysburg having the largest representation of scouts and cub scouts. There were 32 scouts and two leaders from St. Mary's Abbotstown (Paradise Rectory), 28 scouts from New Oxford; 27 scouts and 19 leaders from McSherrystown; six scouts and two leaders from Conewago chapel. There were four leaders present from Gettysburg.

Top National Standards

Praising Monsignor McGee, pastor of Annunciation parish and the members of the McSherrystown troop, Bishop Leech added that "not only have they met the highest standards of scouting, but the troop now has seven of its members studying for the priesthood."

In presenting the Blue and Gold flag marking the bishop's Troop to McSherrystown, Bishop Leech said that the troop is "far above national standards in advancement and it has cooperated fully with council and district activities in addition to being foremost in religious activities."

The McSherrystown troop had five members who were awarded Ad Altare Dei cross awards, the highest award the diocese gives to scouts.

New Oxford Square

Samuel Robb, Willow Grove, has been charged by New Oxford borough police before Justice of the Peace Claude Straley with driving too fast for conditions.

The charge was laid after Robb allegedly skidded 87 feet along the Lincoln highway into the square at New Oxford Sunday morning at 6:05 o'clock. After the car entered the square it knocked down a "Keep To The Right" sign and the blinker which gives a warning signal at the square.

Chief of Police Earl L. McNale said damage to the car totaled $125. No one was injured. The blinker light was not operating at the time of the crash, the officer said.

THREE ARTISTS
SELECTED FOR CONCERTS HERE

Gettysburg's Concert Association closed its 1947-48 membership campaign Saturday night with an increase in new members. "It was a very successful campaign and we are more than pleased," Mrs. Robert H. Derek, membership chairman said today.

Following the close of the campaign 15 of the 17 directors of the Association attended a meeting in the parlor of the Hotel Gettysburg to hear the reports. It was the largest attended directors' meeting in the history of the Association.

Select Artists

The following artists will appear here in three Sunday evening concerts this winter in the Majestic theatre:

JANUARY 11: THE ST. LOUIS SYMPHONETTA. This is a "little symphony" of twenty artists-musicians, founded and conducted by Paul Schreiber. The organization has been on extensive tour since 1937. They present unusual and interesting presentations of modern composers as well as the old masters.

FEBRUARY 8: ZADEL SKOLOVSKY, PIANIST. Mr. Skolovsky is a Canadian-born, California-educated young pianist who has won numerous national awards. He has appeared as soloist with a number of leading symphonies.

Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president of the Association and Mrs. Derek today expressed their appreciation and thanks to the volunteer workers who did such splendid work during our membership campaign. We are grateful to them as well as to the old and new members who enrolled in our Association this year.

WOMAN DRIVER
FACES CHARGE

Miss Marian Small, 21, South street, has been charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore with failing to yield one-half the highway in connection with a crash Saturday morning a half-mile north of here on the Harrisburg road. In the crash she suffered lacerations of the scalp, a sprained back, contusions and shock.

State police, who laid the charge, said that Miss Small admitted to driving the car owned by Paul Fellers, Gardeners R. D., and that the car struck another vehicle driven by Miss Gail Bell, Gettysburg R. 4, before it ran off the highway, knocked down two electric company poles and burst into flames.

Fellers, who was an occupant of the car at the time of the crash, was uninjured.

Miss Bell was driving north, the investigation disclosed, when she was struck by the south-bound Fellers' car.

Examination made Saturday morning when Miss Small was admitted to the hospital showed the possibility of a skull fracture but X-ray examination disclosed that no fracture of the skull had occurred. She remains a hospital patient with her condition described as good.

Scouts To Resume
Paper Collections

The collection of paper by Boy Scouts will be resumed this coming Saturday, according to an announcement today, with the local Catholic Troop 78 in charge of the collection. Scouts will begin the tour through town Saturday morning, according to tentative plans, and will pick up all waste paper placed on sidewalks or will visit homes and remove the paper where arrangements have been previously made. Those who may wish to have the scouts remove paper from the home should call Dr. Joseph H. Riley.

MAN IS CHARGED IN SHOOTING OF WORKER FRIDAY

France Wirth, listed as a resident of Flora Dale on the information filed before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, was in the Dauphin county jail this morning in default of $5,000 bail charged with assault with intent to kill in the shooting Friday afternoon of Joseph S. Meneavage, 39, of Shenandoah Heights.

Meneavage, who was shot in the abdomen, with the bullet going through the liver, was said at the hospital here today to be in a "fair" condition.

Re-enacts Shooting

Wirth, who was charged Saturday afternoon before Justice Basehore, re-enacted the shooting Saturday at the bunkhouse at the Frederic E. Griest orchard, Flora Dale.

State police headed by Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff, District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., Attorney Daniel E. Treter, candidate for district attorney on both tickets at the forthcoming election and Court Reporter Mrs. Annabelle Little were present for the re-enactment.

According to Sergeant Duhrkoff, Wirth said that he and Meneavage were scuffling and fighting. Wirth then picked up a .22 caliber rifle, loaded the bolt action weapon, pointed it at and told Meneavage to "get out of here before I shoot you." Meneavage, who was described by Wirth, and two other men who were in the bunkhouse at the time, as standing with his arms folded across his chest, was said to not have moved and Wirth shot him.

Two Are Released

Wirth was said to have told police, after making a statement concerning the shooting, that he will claim self defense when the case comes before the court.

Meneavage was said to have knocked Wirth down in the argument preceding the shooting. The argument was believed to be about a sum of money Wirth allegedly claimed had been taken from him.

Charges of disorderly conduct were laid against Wirth, Leonard Sell and James Mentzner, the three men who were with Meneavage at the time of the shooting. Sell and Mentzner paid fines of $1 and costs on the disorderly conduct charges and were released.

Martin said that reports showed "at least 2,000" dead fish were found near the Table Rock dam in the stream. He said fish up to 18 inches in length, suckers, bass and cat fish, were seen floating near the dam and on the stream near the dam. He added that the pollution apparently occurred on Friday night. # STUDY PETRILLO EDICT AGAINST RECORD MAKING

Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP)—James C. Petrillo's newest edict, banning gain the making of recordings by as 225,000 AFL musicians after December 31, was being measured from 11 angles today for the shape of things to come in the radio and entertainment fields.

The head of the American Federation of Musicians issued the new directive Saturday, declaring that he members of the union were "destroying themselves" by supplying their own competition in the form of recordings.

"There will never be any more phonograph records or transcriptions made by members of the musicians' union," he said, adding that unless a (radio) program has live music to offer, there won't be any more.

Mixed Reactions

The order was received in various elements of the radio-recording industry with mixed feelings.

Band leader Ted Weems said it might "boomerang on musicians of his country and result in popular favorites being replaced by foreigners," and in California a spokesman for one recording company suggested the making of master records might be shifted to Mexico.

"We've been expecting this," said one spokesman for a leading recording company. "The whole industry has been recording like crazy for several months." He added that most of the major record companies have an accumulation of master records "sufficient to keep them going for years."

"We feel that in the final analysis it will be the American people who will determine what they will hear and when and how they will hear it," said Mark Woods, president of the American Broadcasting company. "Americans love music," he added. "No individual can deprive them of it for long."

STORM POUNDS BERMUDA AREA

Hamilton, Bermuda, Oct. 20 (AP)—Winds estimated at 90 miles an hour beat against Bermuda and churned heavy seas today as the center of a tropical hurricane moved north, 75 miles off the British colony. Some gusts reached 100 m.p.h.

Reside was given 60 days to pay the costs of $110.10, and was ordered to make restitution within the limit of his parole.

Brumbach sent a letter of greeting to this church, which was read at the anniversary service.

Bullets Drop 9-7 Verdict To Lehigh On 2nd Period Safety

A safety scored in the second period when Florian was tossed before the Bullet goal line after picking up a punt by Bast provided Lehigh university's margin in a 9-7 triumph over the Gettysburg college bullets here Saturday afternoon before a crowd of approximately 600 fans.

Gettysburg's hopes for victory faded in the third period when Herman raced 13 yards on a double reverse and Johnson converted on placement.

However, the Engineers drove 40 yards for a score with Fisher smashing over from the 3-yard line on the first play of the final period which proved to be the winning play. Russ Jones added the point on placement.

The first half was a rather slugishly played affair with few thrills for the fans. Early in the third period Cervino broke away on a 22-yard scamper to Lehigh's 33 but the bullets lost possession of the ball two plays later when Foster recovered Wilman's fumble on the Lehigh 27.

Score Safety
Early in the second quarter, a pass, Joe Cervino to Cauffman was good for a first down on Lehigh's 46. A 15-yard clipping penalty put the ball back on the Gettysburg 39. McCausland then recovered Navarro's fumble on Wilman's punt to give the bullets the ball on the Engineers 40. Lehigh held and forced Rambo to punt, the ball going out in the 9. Another exchange of punts put the ball on Lehigh's 20. On a fake kick Heck made a first down on the 32.

Two plays were good for five yards and then Bast punted beyond Florian who picked the rolling ball up just short of the goal line but was thrown over into the end zone to give Lehigh a safety for two points.

A few plays later the half ended with the ball in possession of Lehigh in midfield.

Coach Bream's lads threatened early in the third period when they drove to Lehigh's 22 before yielding the ball on downs. Taking the ball on a punt on the 34 the bullets picked up a first down on a pass from Wilman to Cauffman on the "visitors 42. A 15-yard clipping against the Engineers moved the ball to the 23. Two plays lost 7 yards and then Rambo passed to Cauffman who later trailed to J. Cervino for 8 yards. Another grounded pass gave the Engineers the ball.

Wilman Tallies
Holding Lehigh to six yards on three plays, the bullets were given a break when Bast fumbled the pass from center on an attempted punt and Gettysburg took the ball on the 17. J. Cervino smashed through right tackle for four yards. A pass was grounded but on the next play Wilman, aided by some efficient blocking on the part of Hummel, scampered around right end on a double reverse. Cervino to Sachs to Wilman, to hit scoring territory. Johnson converted to give Gettysburg a 7-2 lead.

A 15-yard penalty against the bullets a few plays later which put the ball on the Gettysburg 5 eventually paved the way for Lehigh's winning tally.

Rambo punted out to the 40. After a line buck was good for two yards, Walter passed to LaSasso for 7 yards and Heck went off right tackle for a first down on the bullets 23. Another pass, Walter to Fisher, was good for a first down on the 11. Heck and Walters picked up seven yards on three plays as the period ended.

On the opening play of the final period Fisher slashed through for a score and Russ Jones converted to again put Lehigh out in front.

The bullets fought back desperately after Johnson returned the following twisting run. Joe Cervino went for 16 yards to the 46. Wilman followed with another nice run around left end to put the ball on the Lehigh 38. Joe Cervino pounced out 4 yards through right guard and then raced 16 more for a first down on the 16. Lehigh braced and threw Wilman for a four yard loss and J. Cervino for another yard.

Placement Misses
Electing to try a field goal at that point, Johnson's placement from the 19 was wide and low. Lehigh taking over on the 20. With that play Gettysburg's hopes for victory flattered and died quickly.

The bullets secured possession of the ball again and on a pass from Rambo to Johnson made a first down on the invaders 45 but Lehigh braced and took the ball at that spot. After picking up two first downs, a 15-yard clipping penalty moved the ball back to the 33 and then Abramowitz punted out on Gettysburg's 12. Morton recovered Johnson's fumble on the six with about a minute of play remaining.

A 5-yard penalty for a back in motion put the ball on the 11. Two plunges were good for 7 yards and the final whistle stopped what appeared to be another Lehigh tally.

Each team secured nine first downs. The bullets completed four of 11 passes while Lehigh clicked for three of four.

At times the bullets flashed good form. Joe Cervino and Russ Wilman were consistent ground gainers while Cauffman put up a steady game on the line. Jones and Numbers were outstanding for Lehigh.

Next Saturday the bullets invade

CHICAGO DROPS FROM LIST OF UNBEATEN PROS

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—There isn't an unbeaten team in the major professional football leagues today and the permanent races in both the national and all-America conference are taking shape as down-to-the-wire affairs.

The Chicago Cardinals became the last eleven in either circuit to taste defeat by bowing, 27-10, to the Rams before a national league record crowd of 69,931 fans in Los Angeles yesterday.

In addition to suffering their initial setback, the defeat dropped the Cards into a three-way tie with the Rams and Green Bay Packers for the lead in the national's western division pennant chase. The Packers turned back the Washington Redskins, 27-10, in Green Bay.

Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh Steelers vaulted to the fore in the national's eastern half chase by a half game as a result of their 35-24 decision over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Eagles and Redskins are now deadlocked for second place. In the junior circuit the defending champion Cleveland Browns snapped their tie with the San Francisco 49ers for the western half lead with a 31-26 win over the hapless Chicago Redskins.

Colts Lose To Dons
The New York Yankees and the Buffalo Bills, who along with Brooklyn and San Francisco, were not scheduled, are tied for the eastern lead. In the only other game in the A.A.C., yesterday the Los Angeles Dons came from behind and vanquished the Baltimore Colts, 38-10.

The Steelers also won out in the final heat at Pittsburgh, scoring 21 points to overcome a 10-point Philadelphia lead. Johnny Clement and Steve Lach tallied the touchdowns that brought the Steelers victory before a crowd of 35,538.

Two former Columbia university stars, Sid Luckman and Phil Givens, led the Chicago Bears and the Boston Yanks to 33-24 and 14-0 victories over the Detroit Lions and the New York Giants, respectively, in the remaining national league games.

EAST BERLIN IS 18-0 VICTIM OF DALLASTOWN HI

East Berlin also dropped a hard-fought Little Four loop game to Dallastown at East Berlin Saturday afternoon 18-0.

Dallastown scored two of its touchdowns in the last five minutes of play. Geesey's 98-yard run after a pass interception providing the final score and the highlight of the game.

The victors tabbed a six-pointer in the second quarter when Kell swept around end from the 19-yard stripe.

East Berlin battled its opponents on even terms thereafter until the fourth quarter. With about five minutes of play remaining Stiles intercepted an East Berlin pass on the home team's 30-yard line and several plays later Geesey went over from the 15. After two minutes later Geesey halted an East Berlin threat with his touchdown interception.

Coach Irv Kopp's lads rolled up seven first downs to five for Dallastown.

A distasteful episode occurred at East Berlin where the three game officials needed state police protection to leave the school following the contest. One of them, Charles Cox, was assaulted by a mob of students and fans.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—The American Legion boasts that 204 players who played for major league clubs during 1947 are former Legion junior players, 113 in the American League and 91 in the National. This probably has nothing to do with the American league's world series victory except that Joe Page is one of the Yankees' 12 former Legion boys.

Maurice Martin and Gene Anderson, two of Phog Allen's promising freshmen basketballers two years ago, are back on the Kansas squad, but the Jayhawkers are more excited over a 1947 fresh named Jerry Waugh.

Ralph Brown, property of the Yankees, has played two seasons of pro baseball. In 1946 he hit .331 for Tampa to lead the Florida International league. This year he topped the Sally league with .352 for Augusta, Ga., and stole 39 bases to boot.

TRYOUT
When Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones, Cleveland Browns' speedy left halfback and distributor of barbed fists, burst his arm, his teammates figured they had a chance to get square without getting shagged. So quarterback Otto Graham innocently remarked, "The first play I'm going to call when you get back in the lineup is T-25."

an off-tackle smash by the left half and Jones promptly asked how come "Well, that's the play on which you broke your arm." Graham replied, "and I want to find out early whether you can take it."

MONDAY MATINEE
Right after the baseball season, Ted Williams went fishing near Princeton, Minn., carrying a weighted bait with his fishing tackle. Ted doesn't use it to club muskies to death; the bait is to keep his wrists strong and supple and he puts the fish back in the water. "Because U. has been chosen to represent the East in the first National Collegiate Basketball Championship (conservative title, eh?) at Madison, Wis., one of the best judges for Taylor Spink's book on Judge Landis comes in a letter to the author from Kansas M. Landis and who comments: "You have called the balls and strikes as you saw them, which is all that anyone can do."

UPSETS THIN SCHOOL RANKS
By TOM SHRIVER
Harrisburg, Oct. 20 (AP)—The ranks of Pennsylvania's unbeaten scholastic grid teams were thinned a trifle during the past week-end as Sharon Hill, Williamsport, and Jeannette went down to unexpected defeat.

Sharon Hill, with a record of 21 consecutive games without a defeat, bowed to Prospect Park, 12-7; Williamsport, with hopes of an unbeaten season, ran into an inspired Lancaster team and bowed, 49-7, while Jeannette fell out of the race for the WPIAL crown by dropping a 26-14 game to Johnstown.

Meanwhile other conference leaders maintained their fast pace, with New Kensington, defending champion of the WPIAL taking a week-end rest to prepare for Ambridge, while Brownsville, Har-Barck, Rochester, and McKeessport all chalked up victories that kept them close to the coveted crown.

Deadlock Continues
In the east the battle between Coaldale and West Hazleton for the leadership of the Eastern Conference Southern division race continued as a virtual deadlock as Coaldale routed Summit Hill by a score of 32-6, and West Hazleton nosed out Lansford 13-0. In the northern division Blakely's Bears stayed in the unbeaten ranks with a 7-0 win over West Scranton.

Tyrone, western conference leader, made it seven straight at the expense of Clearfield, 19-7; New Castle, one of the strongest teams in the west, crushed Mt. Lebanon, 26-0, while in the east Bethlehem turned aside Reading, 21-7. If the two continue their present pace New Castle and Bethlehem figure to meet on Thanksgiving Day with a possible state crown at stake.

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Striking grooms and exercise boys were scheduled to return to the Jamaica Race track under a two-year "code of honor" agreement today as the metropolitan Jockey Club resumed its fall meeting with the program which was called off Saturday because of the walkout.

More than 100 owners and trainers already had signed the agreement with the AFL Teamsters union, bargaining agents for the grooms and exercise riders, and others were expected to do so within the next 48 hours.

Under the agreement, grooms will be guaranteed a minimum of $225 a month while the minimum scale for exercise riders will be $210 for beginners, $235 for those with two to three years' experience and $275 for those with three or more years' experience.

Penn Puts State On 1948 Schedule

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (AP)—Penn and Penn State, currently two of the nation's 10 top football teams, will renew their rivalry in 1948, Penn officials disclosed in releasing a new eight-game schedule. The game will be played here November 6.

Penn State and Washington and Lee are the only new opponents on the card. They replace Lafayette college and the University of Virginia.

Seven contests will be played on Franklin Field, with the Columbia game booked for Baker Field in New York.

The schedule:
October 2, Dartmouth; October 9, Princeton; October 16, Columbia at New York; October 23, Navy; October 30, Washington and Lee; November 6, Penn State; November 13, Army; and November 25, Cornell.

TWO TOP TEAMS SHARING GLORY WITH TEACHERS

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (AP)—The football juggernauts of the University of Pennsylvania and Penn State continued to roll unimpeded over the week-end.

Penn's 32-14 win over Columbia and Penn State's 40-0 rout of Syracuse, however, were only two of the 20 victories scored by Pennsylvania college elevens. Twenty college teams from the Keystone state fought a losing cause, while two battled to a tie.

While Penn State—moving closer to its first unbeaten season in 26 years—and Penn gained many of the headlines, some of the glory went to two teacher college teams—West Chester and Slippery Rock.

West Chester registered its fifth straight triumph, defeating Lock Haven Teachers 14-6. Slippery Rock nosed out Shippensburg Teachers 6-0 for its fourth straight win.

Three other state teams remained unbeaten. Franklin and Marshall was held to a 13-13 tie by Albright Friday night. Dickinson spurred in the final period to defeat Susquehanna 33-27. The third eleven, St. Francis, was idle.

Three Pennsylvania college elevens lost for the first time. Muhlenberg lost a close one to Temple Friday night 7-6. Ursinus tasted initial defeat at the hands of Moravian 20-0, also on Friday night. Shippensburg was the third eleven to go down for the first time this season.

Hapless Pittsburgh dropped its fourth consecutive game of the year to Indiana 41-6 and once-powerful Carnegie Tech lost its 1947 opener to West Virginia Wesleyan 27-6.

In Sunday games Villanova—aided by the kicking toe of John Slano—edged Detroit 14-12 and St. Vincent defeated Alliance 19-6.

Other Games
Lehigh defeated Gettysburg 9-7. Bloomsburg Teachers swamped Millersville Teachers 37-0. Scranton whipped Youngstown 19-7. Lafayette upset Bucknell 27-7. Swarthmore was crushed by undefeated and untied Wesleyan 40-7. Allegheny College Westminister 14-7. Clarion Teachers knocked out Thiel 19-7.

East Stroudsburg Teachers turned back Cortland (N. Y.) Teachers 19-0. Grove City blanked Hiram 25-0. Indiana Teachers was one touchdown better than Fairmount (W. Va.) State 13-7. Lebanon Valley stamped Mount St. Mary's 35-0. Mansfield Teachers defeated Kutztown Teachers 46-6. Duquesne was overruled by Mississippi State 34-9.

Washington and Jefferson lost out by one point to Washington 21-20. Niagara routed Wayneburg 27-7. Wilkes College whitewashed New York A. & M. 54-0 and Lincoln lost to Virginia Union 10-7.

EIGHT COLLEGE TEAMS TUMBLE FROM UNBEATEN

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—A dozen major college football teams still own all-victorious records today but several of them will have to do some fancy stepping Saturday to keep from joining eight others which were tumbled from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied during the past week-end.

Such previously undefeated elevens as Minnesota, Vanderbilt, Yale, Maryland, William and Mary, Marquette, Boston College and Muhlenberg dropped out of the all-victorious class and now can concentrate on returning the compliment to such other hopefuls as may cross their paths.

Among the top-flight aggregations, those whose perfect records survived the week-end firing included Michigan, Notre Dame, Texas, California, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania, Penn State, Southern Methodist, Baylor, Wake Forest, Virginia and West Virginia.

Bullets Drop 9-7 Verdict To Lehigh On 2nd Period Safety

A safety scored in the second period when Florian was tossed behind the Bullet goal line after picking up a punt by Bast provided Lehigh university's margin in a 9-7 triumph over the Gettysburg college bullets here Saturday afternoon before a crowd of approximately 300 fans.

Gettysburg's hopes for victory faded in the third period when William raced 13 yards on a double reverse and Johnson converted on placement.

However, the Engineers drove 40 yards for a score with Fisher smashing over from the 3-yard line on the first play of the final period with what proved to be the winning play. Russ Jones added the point on placement.

The first half was a rather slugishly played affair with few thrills for the fans. Early in the period Tony Cervino broke away on a 28-yard scamper to Lehigh's 33 but the bullets lost possession of the ball two plays later when Foster recovered Wileman's fumble on the Lehigh 27.

Score Safety
Early in the second quarter, a pass, Joe Cervino to Cauffman was good for a first down on Lehigh's 46. A 15-yard clipping penalty put the ball back on the Gettysburg 39. McCausland then recovered Navarro's fumble on Wileman's punt to give the Bullets the ball on the Engineers' 40. Lehigh held and forced Rambo to punt, the ball going out in the 9. Another exchange of punts put the ball on Lehigh's 20. On a fake kick Heck made a first down on the 32.

Two plays were good for five yards and then Bast punted beyond Florian who picked the rolling ball up just short of the goal line but was thrown over into the end zone to give Lehigh a safety for two points. A few plays later the half ended with the ball in possession of Lehigh in midfield.

Coch Bream's lads threatened early in the third period when they drove to Lehigh's 22 before yielding the ball on downs. Taking the ball on a punt on the 34 the Bullets picked up a first down on a pass from Wileman to Cauffman on the visitors' 42. A 15-yard clipping against the Engineers moved the ball to the 32. Two plays lost 7 yards and then Rambo passed to Cauffman who lateraled to J. Cervino for 8 yards. Another grounded pass gave the Engineers the ball.

Wileman Tallies
Holding Lehigh to six yards on three plays, the Bullets were given a break when Bast fumbled the pass from center on an attempted punt and Gettysburg took the ball on the 17. J. Cervino smashed through right tackle for four yards. A pass was grounded but on the next play Wileman, aided by some efficient blocking on the part of Hummel, scampered around right end on a double reverse, Cervino to Sachs to Wileman, to hit scoring territory. Johnson converted to give Gettysburg a 7-2 lead.

A 15-yard penalty against the Bullets a few plays later which put the ball on the Gettysburg 5 eventually paved the way for Lehigh's winning tally.

Rambo punted out to the 40. After a line back was good for two yards, Walter passed to LaSasso for 7 yards and Heck went off right tackle for a first down on the Bullets' 23. Another pass, Walter to Fisher, was good for a first down on the 11. Heck and Walters picked up seven yards on three plays as the period ended.

On the opening play of the final period Fisher slashed through for a score and Russ Jones converted to again put Lehigh out in front.

The Bullets fought back desperately after Johnson returned the following kickoff to the 30. On a pretty twisting run, Joe Cervino went for 16 yards to the 46. Wileman followed with another nice run around left end to put the ball on the Lehigh 38. Joe Cervino punted out 4 yards through right guard and then raced 16 more for a first down on the 16. Lehigh braced and threw Wileman for a four yard loss and J. Cervino for another yard.

Placement Misses
Electing to try a field goal at that point, Johnson's placement from the 19 was wide and low, Lehigh taking over on the 20. With that play Gettysburg's hopes for victory fluttered and died quickly.

The Bullets secured possession of the ball again and on a pass from Rambo to Johnson made a first down on the invaders' 45 but Lehigh braced and took the ball at that spot. After picking up two first moves, a 15-yard clipping penalty moved the ball back to the 33 and then Abramovitz punted out on Gettysburg's 12. Morton recovered Johnson's fumble on the six with about a minute of play remaining. A 5-yard penalty for a back in motion put the ball on the 11. Two plunges were good for 7 yards and the final whistle stopped what appeared to be another Lehigh tally.

Each team secured nine first downs. The Bullets completed four of 11 passes while Lehigh clicked for three of four.

At times the Bullets flashed good form. Joe Cervino and Russ Wileman were consistent ground gainers while Cauffman put up a steady game on the line. Jones and Numbers were outstanding for Lehigh.

Next Saturday the Bullets invade

CHICAGO DROPS FROM LIST OF UNBEATEN PROS

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—There isn't an unbeaten team in the major professional football leagues today and the pennant races in both the national and all-America conference are taking shape as down-to-the-wire affairs.

The Chicago Cardinals became the last eleven in either circuit to taste defeat by bowing, 27-7 to the Rams before a national league record crowd of 69,631 fans in Los Angeles yesterday.

In addition to suffering their initial setback, the defeat dropped the Cards into a three-way tie with the Rams and Green Bay Packers for the lead in the national's western division pennant chase. The Packers turned back the Washington Redskins, 27-10, in Green Bay.

Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh Steelers vaulted to the fore in the national's eastern half chase by a half game as a result of their 35-24 decision over the Philadelphia Eagles. The Eagles and Redskins are now deadlocked for second place.

In the junior circuit the defending champion Cleveland Browns snapped their tie with the idle San Francisco 49ers for the western half lead with a 31-28 win over the hapless Chicago Rockets.

Colts Lose To Dons
The New York Yankees and the Buffalo Bills, who along with Brooklyn and San Francisco, were not scheduled, are tied for the eastern lead. In the only other game in the A.A.C., yesterday the Los Angeles Dons came from behind and walloped the Baltimore Colts, 38-10.

The Steelers also won out in the final heat at Pittsburgh, scoring 21 points to overcome a 10-point Philadelphia lead. Johnny Clement and Steve Lach tallied the touchdowns that brought the Steelers victory before a crowd of 35,538.

Two former Columbia university stars, Sid Luckman and Phil Govenall, led the Chicago Bears and the Boston Yanks to 33-24 and 14-0 victories over the Detroit Lions and the New York Giants, respectively, in the remaining national league games.

EAST BERLIN IS 18-0 VICTIM OF DALLASTOWN HI

East Berlin high dropped a hard fought Little Four loop game to Dallastown at East Berlin Saturday afternoon 18-0.

Dallastown scored two of its touchdowns in the last five minutes of play, Geesey's 98-yard run after a pass interception providing the final score and the highlight of the game.

The victors tabbed a six-pointer in the second quarter when Kell swept around end from the 19-yard stripe. East Berlin battled its opponents on even terms thereafter until the fourth quarter. With about five minutes of play remaining Stiles intercepted an East Berlin pass on the home team's 30-yard line and several plays later Geesey went over from the 15. About two minutes later Geesey halted an East Berlin threat with his touchdown interception.

Coach Irv Kopp's lads rolled up seven first downs to five for Dallastown.

A distasteful episode occurred at East Berlin where the three game officials needed state police protection to leave the school following the contest. One of them, Charles Cox, was assaulted by a mob of students and fans.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—The American Legion boasts that 204 players who played for major league clubs during 1947 are former Legion junior players, 113 in the American league and 91 in the National. This probably has nothing to do with the American league's world series victory except that Joe Page is one of the Yankees' 12 former Legion boys.

Maurice Martin and Gene Anderson, two of Phog Allen's promising freshmen basketballers two years ago, are back on the Kansas squad, but the Jayhawkers are more excited over a 1947 frosh named Jerry Waugh.

Ralph Brown, property of the Yankees, has played two seasons of pro baseball. In 1946 he hit .381 for Tampa to lead the Florida International league. This year he topped the Sally league with .362 for Augusta, Ga., and stole 30 bases to boot.

TRYOUT

so quarterback Otto Graham innocently remarked, "The first play I'm going to call when you get back in the lineup is T-25." That's an off-tackle smash by the left half and Jones promptly asked how come.

"Well, that's the play on which you broke your arm," Graham replied, "and I want to find out early whether you can take it."

MONDAY MATINEE
Right after the baseball season, Ted Williams went fishing near Princeton, Minn., carrying a weighted bat with his fishing tackle.

Ted doesn't use it to club muskies to death; the bat is to keep his wrists strong and supple and he puts the fish back in the water.

one of the best plugs for Taylor Spink's book on Judge Landis comes in a letter to the author from Keneas M. Landis 2nd, who comments: "You have called the balls and strikes as you saw them, which is all that anyone can do."

UPSETS THIN SCHOOL RANKS

By TOM SHRIVER
Harrisburg, Oct. 20 (AP)—The ranks of Pennsylvania's unbeaten scholastic grid teams were thinned a trifling during the past week-end as Sharon Hill, Williamsport, and Jeannette went down to unexpected defeat.

Sharon Hill, with a record of 21 consecutive games without a defeat, bowed to Prospect Park, 12-7; Williamsport, with hopes of an unbeaten season, ran into an inspired Lancaster team and bowed, 49-7, while Jeannette fell out of the race for the WPIAL crown by dropping a 26-14 game to Johnstown.

Meanwhile other conference leaders maintained their fast pace, with New Kensington, defending champion of the WPIAL taking a week rest to prepare for Ambridge, while Brownsville, Har-Brack, Rochester, and McKeesport all chalked up victories that kept them close to the coveted crown.

In the east the battle between Coaldale and West Hazleton for the leadership of the Eastern Conference Southern division race continued as a virtual deadlock as Coaldale routed Summit Hill by a score of 32-6, and West Hazleton nosed out Lansford 13-0. In the northern division Blakely's Bears stayed in the unbeaten ranks with a 7-0 win over West Scranton.

Tyrone, western conference leader, made it seven straight at the expense of Clearfield, 19-7; New Castle one of the strongest teams in the west, crushed Mt. Lebanon, 26-0, while in the east Bethlehem turned aside Reading, 21-7. If the two continue their present pace New Castle and Bethlehem figure to meet on Thanksgiving Day with a possible state crown at stake.

Jamaica Strike Of Grooms Ends

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Striking grooms and exercise boys were scheduled to return to the Jamaica Race track under a two-year "code of honor" agreement today as the metropolitan Jockey club resumed its fall meeting with the program which was called off Saturday because of the walkout.

More than 100 owners and trainers already had signed the agreement, bargaining agents for the grooms and exercise riders, and others were expected to do so within the next 48 hours.

Under the agreement, grooms will be guaranteed a minimum of $225 a month while the minimum scale for exercise riders will be $210 for beginners, $235 for those with two to three years' experience and $275 for those with three or more years' experience.

L-TOWN ELEVEN LOSES 27-0 TO NEW FREEDOM

Clay Evans' Littlestown high school football team dropped its second straight game Saturday afternoon when New Freedom gained a 27-0 victory in a Little Four conference game at New Freedom.

Alwine returned a Littlestown punt for 75 yards and a score for New Freedom's first tally in the first period.

In the second quarter Alwine pounded over from the six-yard stripe.

A pass to Winter gave New Freedom its third touchdown in the third period while Koller scored in the final period on a short line plunge.

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (AP)—Penn and Penn State, currently two of the nation's 10 top football teams, will renew their rivalry in 1948, Penn officials disclosed in releasing a new eight-game schedule. The game will be played here November 6.

Penn State and Washington and Lee are the only new opponents on the card. They replace Lafayette college and the University of Virginia.

Seven contests will be played on Franklin Field, with the Columbia game booked for Baker Field in New York.

The schedule:
October 2, Dartmouth; October 9, Princeton; October 16, Columbia at New York; October 23, Navy; October 30, Washington and Lee; November 6, Penn State; November 13, Army, and November 25, Cornell.

TWO TOP TEAMS SHARING GLORY WITH TEACHERS

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (AP)—The football juggernauts of the University of Pennsylvania and Penn State continued to roll unimpeded over the week-end.

Penn's 32-14 win over Columbia and Penn State's 40-0 rout of Syracuse, however, were only two of the 20 victories scored by Pennsylvania college elevens. Twenty college teams from the Keystone state fought a losing cause, while two battled to a tie.

While Penn State—moving closer to its first unbeaten season in 26 years—and Penn gained many of the headlines, some of the glory went to two teacher college teams—West Chester and Slippery Rock.

West Chester registered its fifth straight triumph, defeating Lock Haven Teachers 14-6. Slippery Rock nosed out Shippensburg Teachers 6-0 for its fourth straight win.

Three Still Unbeaten
Three other state teams remained unbeaten. Franklin and Marshall was held to a 13-13 tie by Albright Friday night. Dickinson spurted in the final period to defeat Susquehanna 33-27. The third eleven, St. Francis, was idle.

Three Pennsylvania college elevens lost for the first time. Muhlenberg lost a close one to Temple Friday night 7-6. Ursinus tasted initial defeat at the hands of Moravian 20-0, and also on Friday night. Shippensburg was the third eleven to go down for the first time this season.

Hapsless Pittsburgh dropped its fourth consecutive game of the year to Indiana 41-6 and once-powerful Carnegie Tech lost its 1947 opener to West Virginia Wesleyan 27-6.

In Sunday games Villanova—aided by the kicking toe of John Siano—edged Detroit 14-12 and St. Vincent defeated Alliance 19-6.

Other Games
Lehigh defeated Gettysburg 9-7. Bloomsburg Teachers swamped Millersville Teachers 37-0. Scranton whipped Youngstown 19-7. Lafayette upset Bucknell 27-7. Swarthmore was crushed by undefeated and untied Wesleyan 40-7. Allegheny defeated Westminster 14-7. Clarion Teachers knocked out Thiel 19-7. East Stroudsburg Teachers turned back Cortland (N. Y.) Teachers 19-0. Grove City blanked Hiram 25-0. Indiana Teachers was one touchdown better than Fairmount (W. Va.) State 13-7. Lebanon Valley stampeded Mount St. Mary's 35-0. Mansfield Teachers defeated Kutztown Teachers 40-6. Duquesne was overriden by Mississippi State 34-9. Washington and Jefferson lost but by one point to Muskingum 21-20. Niagara trounced Waynesburg 27-7. Wilkes College whitewashed New York A. & M. 54-0, and Lincoln lost to Virginia Union 10-7.

EIGHT COLLEGE TEAMS TUMBLE FROM UNBEATEN

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—A dozen major college football teams still own all-victorious records today but several of them will have to do some fancy stepping Saturday to keep from joining eight others which were tumbled from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied during the past week-end.

Such previously undefeated elevens as Minnesota, Vanderbilt, Yale, Maryland, William and Mary, Marquette, Boston College and Muhlenberg dropped out of the all-victorious class and now can concentrate on returning the compliment to such other hopefuls as may cross their paths.

Among the top-flight aggregations, those whose perfect records survived the week-end firing include Michigan, Notre Dame, Texas, California, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania, Penn State, Southern Methodist, Baylor, Wake Forest, Virginia and West Virginia.

STUDY PETRILLO EDICT AGAINST RECORD MAKING

Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP)—James C. Petrillo's newest edict, banning the making of recordings by his 225,000 A.P.I. musicians after December 31, was being measured from all angles today for the shape of things to come in the radio and entertainment fields.

The head of the American Federation of Musicians issued the new edict Saturday, declaring that the members of the union were "defeating themselves" by supplying their own competition in the form of recordings.

"There will never be any more phonograph records or transcriptions made by members of the musicians union," he said, adding that unless a "radio" program has five minutes to offer, there won't be any more.

Mixed Reactions

The order was received in various segments of the radio-recording industry with mixed feelings.

Radio leader Ted Weems said it might "overcome on musicians of this country and result in popular favorites being replaced by foreigners, and in California a spokesman for one recording company suggested the making of master records might be shifted to Mexico.

"We've been expecting this," said one spokesman for a leading recording company. "The whole industry has been recording like crazy for several months." He added that most of the major record companies have an accumulation of master records "sufficient to keep them going for years."

"We feel that in the final analysis it will be the American people who will determine what they will hear and when and how they will hear it," said Mark Woods, president of the American Broadcasting company. "Americans love music," he added. "No individual can deprive them of it for long."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
AS GOOD SAMARITANS

The Bible story of the Good Samaritan is a striking one. There were plenty of passersby who paid no attention to the poor fellow who had fallen by the wayside. But there was one who saw, and who did something about it. Tenderly he lifted him to his own horse, and gave him light nourishment, and saw that he was cared for.

That Good Samaritan was no relative of that unfortunate human being. He could just as well have passed by, as others did, but he had something fine in his heart. He was touched with pity and consideration for another human being, of like nature to himself. He was one with that one, and his healing kindness was something that brought beauty into the lives of each.

The United States of America is the last nation on this globe that would want war. It has never been adequately prepared for any war in which it has reluctantly engaged. Its free way of life and its world-famous institutions have become an example to the entire world, and the envy of every one of the peoples of nations enslaved and misgoverned. For generations America has been a place of refuge and hope.

America has not only given of its treasure, lavishly, to bring about a better world, but it has followed the example of the Good Samaritan to its former enemies—with only the hope in mind that they, too, might enjoy the fruits of freedom and independence, and provide happiness and justice for all their own people.

The United States and her neighbors have no quarrels. They have only occasional misunderstandings that are always settled amicably and peaceably. The dream and dearest desire of America is for a peaceful and happy Europe. As Good Samaritans, its people are contributing to their abundance that Europe may live. It has no ulterior purposes behind what it is doing to bring about an orderly and happy state of affairs, from such a condition of chaos.

God helping her, America intends to abide by her decision to keep the light of her famous Statue of Liberty ever aflame—"Liberty enlightening the world."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "How to Live a Life."

Just Folks

The Poet of the People

By EDGAR A. GUEST

AT THE ZOO
I watched the monkeys at the zoo,
Engaged in ceaseless bickering.
And in a moment this I knew:
Strongest and cruelest was king.

Highest upon a crag he sat;
Fought every daring challenge made.
Knocking his weaker subjects flat,
And yet, of one of them, afraid:

I think he knew the day would be
(For there was terror in his eyes)
When one, grown stronger than was he,
To seize the place he held would rise.

It seems that even monkeys know,
What long by men has been revealed:
Might, greater might will overthrow.
Who rules by force, to force will yield.

CRABAPPLE IS BEAUTIFIER OF SMALL GARDENS

Flowering crab apples comprise a group of small to medium growing ornamental trees that may be moved with good results during this fall planting season. All except small sizes should be moved with a ball of earth around the roots. Following transplanting they need plenty of moisture until the ground freezes. Water them every ten days unless a good rain falls. A rain counts as one watering.

Among the rather large number of species and varieties listed by nurserymen, the gardener may select ones having comparatively upright habit of growth or that are amenable to training and heading up to permit using them in close association with shrubs and other plants. There are a number of varieties too broad and robust growing for any but large-scale planting.

Form New Skyline
What is needed most on many home grounds is a small tree growing only fifteen to twenty-five feet high, that, besides contributing good flowers, fruit and foliage, may be used to form the high points in corners and at intervals along the length of the shrubby border inclosing one or more sides of the garden or lawn. Without them, the skyline of the planting is likely to become flat and uninteresting.

Medium-growing trees used singly or in groups along the edges of the lawn may be placed to strengthen promontories in the curving shrubby border. They also contribute a limited amount of shade over the lawn.

Improve Garden Settings
A single row of these trees frequently is all that one side or end of the garden or lawn needs to separate it from the vegetable garden or neighboring property. Gateways and openings in the garden hedge are strongly framed by a pair of flowering trees. Twin rows of them bordering the garden walk or lawn panel will focus full attention on the gate, entrance way, bench or other architectural detail placed at the end or ends.

The setting for garden shelters and bench seats also may be improved by one or more small flowering trees. They will give a comfortable spot of shade and an adequate background or frame for the structure. Plantings along garden walls and fences, against large expanses of house wall or around tall corners are made more attractive by the height and rounded form of ornamental trees.

Garden Activities For Late October

Rose-planting time is approaching. Roses start making new roots as soon as planted, even though the upper part of the plants are dormant. If your garden schedule calls for roses, order the plants immediately and prepare the beds now.

Make sure that the beds prepared for rose planting receive plenty of seasoned manure or bone meal and humus. Also, ample drainage is important.

Evergreens may be planted now. Fall also is the best time for the planting of lilac bushes. Dig in bone meal or wood ashes around established plants.

Time is here for the planting of all spring-flowering bulbs.

Insect attacks on next year's crops may be diminished by cleaning the garden of crop remnants, such as old vines, stalks and decayed vegetables.

When planting tulips and daffodils, dig the holes large enough so that each bulb will rest firmly on the bottom and not hang suspended with air pockets underneath and earth on top.

Set aside an ample supply of soil, sand and peat moss for sowing seeds indoors during the winter.

Larkspur, cornflowers and other winter hardy annuals may be sown outdoors.

See that all bulbs, tubers and roots stored over the winter are properly labeled.

Pot up narcissus, hyacinths and other bulbs for indoor forcing. Keep them in a dark place until roots form.

Geraniums may be trimmed back whenever they become too leggy. Early fall or early spring are favorable times for this job.

Place orders for deciduous trees and shrubs to be dug as soon as the leaves start to fall.

McDonald had been in poor health the last three years but continued to carry out his duties. A Democrat, he was elected in 1941 to a ten-year term.

A successor will be named by Gov. James H. Duff and will serve until the end of 1949—year of the next municipal election when a contest will be held for a full 10-year term.

USEFUL FACTS ABOUT NUT CULTURE

For the ten years from 1920 to 1929, American farms produced around 127 million pounds of nuts annually while we were consuming 285 million pounds a year. Of course, the difference was made up by importations from foreign countries. Over the last six years domestic production has more than doubled, but consumer demands still soar well above domestic production and we are still a nut importing people.

Of course, part of our nut importations consist of cashew, pistache and pignolia nuts which cannot or are not grown in the United States. But the bulk of our dependency on foreign farms for nuts remains among walnuts, chestnuts, pecans and other hardy nuts which can be and should be grown on American farms to enrich American farmers. One of the principal arguments in favor of this sound course, besides the monetary phase, was illustrated in the American pantry during the recent war. Nuts almost disappeared from the grocer's bins and shelves. And this scarcity still continues.

The average farmer can do much to make us self-sufficient in nuts, especially in hickorynuts, black walnuts, chestnuts, butternuts and hazelnuts (filberts). These grow readily throughout the north and states of central latitudes. The first two yield valuable timber besides their valuable crops. All five fit admirably into the general farm program in that they thrive on fertile rows and in other fertile but non-productive nooks which usually remain idle.

Of course, the native chestnut tree has disappeared from this region because of its susceptibility to blight. But recent improved strains of the Asiatic and Chinese chestnuts are proving hardy and highly productive.

As mentioned in this column several weeks ago, candy manufacturers, ice cream makers, bakers and other allied lines report that demands for products containing black walnuts and hickorynuts far outstrip available supplies of these native nuts. And the same is true of English (Persian) walnuts and pecans at prevailing market prices. The same solution of this supply and demand problem is more production. And in this production the general farmer should participate with profit.

Black walnut trees may be grown for both timber and nuts by planting nuts from well developed and productive trees. This can be done before winter or the nuts may be stratified over winter and planting done in late February or early March. Fall planting, however, is preferred. Budded nursery plants should be set out in late fall or late winter for nut growing alone.

The same advice may be applied in growing the hardy shagbark and shellbark hickorynuts.

Blight-resistant strains of chestnut may be set out late this month, during mild periods over winter or in early March. Most nurseries offer suitable trees in their catalogues.

Almost all commercial filberts are grown in Oregon and Washington. But the popularity of our native hazelnut warrants more serious consideration of the improved species of this nut for revenue purposes in this latitude. Well rooted nursery plants should be set out in late February or early March.

Interested readers are invited to write the editor to discuss this general subject. All questions gladly answered.

Thoughts On Foods And Famines

The actual history of man on the earth has always been and is a record of his struggle to escape famine. We in the United States, where starvation (malnutrition) is frequently disguised behind a bewildering medical term, do not appreciate this fact as keenly as do the millions in vast regions of Europe and Asia. For example, for the past twenty centuries China has suffered at least one major famine a year in some part of her gigantic country. Hundreds of thousands die every year in some parts of India from dire lack of food.

The seriousness of food shortages was emphasized in the writer's mind a few years after the first World War when the leading statesmen were quarreling and bickering over how Europe should be partitioned to guarantee liberty and self-determination among the various racial groups. A peasant Lithuanian woman explained it in these words: "You Americans, because you enjoy life in a democracy, think every other people in the world should have and should want a democratic form of government. We in Lithuania are little concerned whether we live in a democracy or under an autocratic government. Our first concern is—Where can I get something for dinner? What can I find to feed the children in the morning?"

How are continual famines and widespread lack of food harmonized with the claims of technologists who have so long been promising mankind more than plenty—freedom from want?

If the earth's surface was divided equally among all inhabitants, there would be a 60-acre share for every man, woman and child. Of this 60 acres, 45 acres are water and 15 acres are land. Of the 15 acres of land, after mountains, deserts and other waste areas are deducted, there remains only 1 acre of land suitable for potential cropping. Of this acre only one-fifth is actually productive.

Is the threat of potential famine ever present here in the United States?

After several years of what theorists called a "battle against surplus

Mums Combine Well With Autumn Greens

Because chrysanthemums bloom at this time of year, they are interesting to combine with autumn foliage, bare branches, pine and other needed and broad-leaved evergreens. Berried shrubs, dried materials and seed pods are other materials to use with them. They bring the brilliant colors of the outdoor garden indoors.

food" in this country, we switched within a matter of a few weeks from a program of federal distribution of surplus foods under the stamp plan to government-supervised rationing of scarce foods. As one writer expressed it, "War proves just how short a distance we in America live ahead of starvation."

Then too, we commonly ignore the evils of malnutrition and attempt to classify them in a category quite apart from that of famine and starvation. Yet, many authorities on diet claim that at least three-fourths of our people are suffering from malnutrition—lack of sufficient food as well as lack of proper food balances. Dental specialists have estimated that more than 90 per cent of the children in this country are suffering from dietary impairments of the teeth.

And the incontrovertible truth remains that since the late 1920's the farms of the United States have been unable to produce enough food to meet our domestic demands even at the diet levels these opinions reveal. Reduced to conservative figures taken from reliable government sources our food record since 1930 reads:

Produced	8,446 billion lbs.
Exported	287 billion lbs.
Remainder (for domestic use)	8,159 billion lbs.
Consumption	8,204 billion lbs.
Shortage	45 billion lbs.

grounds, one of the most popular of which is the rock garden or rock walls writes Betty Blossom in the New York Herald Tribune.

Wall or rock gardens by their construction and appearance necessarily put a certain limit on the choice of plants which may be used. In the group of bulbous plants, however, there are a great variety to choose from, notably in the small-growing bulbs, of very early spring. These alone are not the only bulbs of rock gardens for there are the various alliums for June bloom, the sternbergias for August and September, and the fall-blooming crocuses and colchicums for September and October.

Rock Garden Bulbs
Small bulbs seem naturally appropriate for use among the dwarf plants which predominate in rock gardens. Also, the situation provides a good locale for many of them, as practically all bulbs require good drainage, and a well constructed piece of rock work will fulfill this need. One precaution to be carefully taken is that there be sufficient soil beneath and over the bulb, so that it will not dry out before it blooms.

Some bulbs prefer full sun, some light shade, and a few, such as some of the scillas and dog-tooth violets, like a fairly heavy shade. Such conditions may be found in most rock gardens, as they are built in every location from the edge of the wild woods to the open, sunny hillside.

Soil Needs Plenty of Humus

Since soil pockets among rocks tend to be on the small side, it is important that the soil contain plenty of humus, which may be added by using peat moss or leaf-mold compost, if there is not already sufficient present. The hardy bulbs, once set, may be left for many years and additional humus added from time to time to take the place of any soil which may have washed away or had its food value exhausted.

RED EXPANSION THREATENS FAR EAST NATIONS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

What with the roar of battle between the democracies and the Red bloc in Europe, and the constant effervescence of Russia's chief U.N. representative, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, it's small wonder that the western world's attention is diverted from affairs in Asia.

However, that's a dangerous situation for the Occident to be in. For while we are engrossed in the defense of democracy in the west, a terrible menace is developing in the Far East—the threat of a Communist-dominated Asiatic bloc comprising more than half the population of the whole world.

The crux of this Oriental crisis is mighty China—torn by civil war between the Chinese Communists and the nationalist government, and in the grip of a protracted economic upheaval which has even taken the lives of millions by starvation, China has reached that state of chaos which renders her prime for Communist conquest.

Threat To China

In token of this listen to L. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, who recently made a special investigation of the Chinese situation as special emissary of President Truman. The general says that "unless drastic reforms, particularly in the economic field, are implemented soon, China will be drawn into the Soviet orbit in spite of the assistance that we Americans must extend."

This statement was contained in a letter to Mrs. John Gardner Coolidge, of the Boston Committee for United Service to China. Incidentally this was the first indication of the nature of the general's report to the President. Wedemeyer stated in his letter that China is passing through conditions of "revolution and revolution" and that the Soviet Union is capitalizing on "disorganization and chaos in the area exactly as she has done in Europe."

Whether the Chinese Communists are working in sympathy with the Russians is a matter of debate. The Chinese Reds say they are not, but the Chinese government says they are, and many impartial observers agree with the government. Anyway, the dragon's teeth which the Chinese Communists are sowing will grow crops which will be grist for Moscow's mill.

China is the main base of western democracy in the Orient. Supposing that vast country with its 500,000,000 population should fall under Russian domination, and to this should be added most of the rest of the Oriental peoples. If you join Russia's 200,000,000 to that bloc you have considerably more than a billion people—over half the world's population.

There's nothing outlandish about that thought, for the idea of an Asiatic bloc long has been running strong among the Far Eastern countries.

This is a crucial moment in the fight between democracy and aggressive totalitarian Communism. It is truly a "world war" with two great fronts to be held—one in Europe and the other in the Orient. Neither can be neglected.

TEST VOTE NEAR ON MARSHALL'S UN-PROPOSAL

By LARRY HAUKE

Lake Success, Oct. 20 (P)—The first test vote on Secretary of State George C. Marshall's proposal to overhaul United Nations machinery comes up today with the American delegation confident of piling up an impressive majority.

The initial balloting lineup in the 57-nation political committee (11 a.m. EST) was expected on the question of establishing a drafting group to iron out differences between the U. S. proposal and a series of amendments from countries supporting the plan generally.

Only Russia and her supporters have spoken against the plan for a year-around "little assembly" in debate this week and American sources based their optimism on general endorsement from a long list of delegations, including Britain, France and China.

"Illegal" Says Gromyko

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko made it plain yesterday that none of the softening and clarifying amendments would have any effect on Russia. He called the plan illegal and contrary to the U. N. charter and said so far as the assembly scheme was concerned the Soviet union does not have "the word compromise in its glossary."

Gromyko couched his statement with another sharp attack on the United States and said this move was all part of an American plan to "dictate" world policy. His bitter charges renewed speculation that Russia and her satellites might boycott the "little assembly" should it finally be set up.

Four Hurt As Cops Stage Gun Battle

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (P)—Two women and two patrolmen were shot and wounded in a 15-minute exchange of gunfire before a 19-year-old youth who had barricaded himself in a darkened West Philadelphia home was overpowered.

The youth was identified as William J. Greco, 19, of 1010 E. 10th St. He was shot in the right arm and leg and was taken to a hospital.

The police motion, offered as a counter move to a committee-approved American resolution providing for a U. N. watchdog commission in the Balkans, called on the assembly to recommend that "all foreign troops be immediately withdrawn and all foreign military missions, instructors and other military experts be recalled immediately from the territory of Greece."

RED EXPANSION THREATENS FAR EAST NATIONS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

What with the roar of battle between the democracies and the Red bloc in Europe, and the constant effervescence of Russia's chief U.N. representative, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, it's small wonder that the western world's attention is diverted from affairs in Asia.

However, that's a dangerous situation for the Occident to be in. For while we are engrossed in the defense of democracy in the west, a terrible menace is developing in the Far East—the threat of a Communist-dominated Asiatic bloc comprising more than half the population of the whole world.

The crux of this Oriental crisis is mighty China—torn by civil war between the Chinese Communists and the nationalist government, and in the grip of a protracted economic upheaval which has even taken the lives of millions by starvation, China has reached that state of chaos which renders her prime for Communist conquest.

In token of this listen to Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, who recently made a special investigation of the Chinese situation as special emissary of President Truman. The general says that "unless drastic reforms, particularly in the economic field, are implemented soon, China will be drawn into the Soviet orbit in spite of the assistance that we Americans must extend."

This statement was contained in a letter to Mrs. John Gardner Coolidge, of the Boston Committee for United Service to China. Incidentally this was the first indication of the nature of the general's report to the President. Wedemeyer stated in his letter that China is passing through conditions of "disorganization and chaos in the area exactly as she has done in Europe."

Whether the Chinese Communists are working in sympathy with the Russians is a matter of debate. The Chinese Reds say they are not, but the Chinese government says they are, and many impartial observers agree with the government. Anyway, the dragon's teeth which the Chinese Communists are sowing will grow crops which will be grist for Moscow's mill.

China is the main base of western democracy in the Orient. Supposing that vast country with its 500,000,000 population should fall under Russian domination, and to this should be added most of the rest of the Oriental peoples. If you join Russia's 200,000,000 to that bloc you have considerably more than a billion people—over half the world's population.

There's nothing outlandish about that thought, for the idea of an Asiatic bloc long has been running strong among the Far Eastern countries.

This is a crucial moment in the fight between democracy and aggressive totalitarianism. It is truly a world war, with two great fronts to be held—one in Europe and the other in the Orient. Neither can be neglected.

TEST VOTE NEAR ON MARSHALL'S UN-PROPOSAL

By LARRY HAUCK

Lake Success, Oct. 20 (AP)—The first test vote on Secretary of State George C. Marshall's proposal to overhaul United Nations machinery comes up today with the American delegation confident of piling up an impressive majority.

The initial balloting lineup in the 57-nation political committee (11 a.m. EST) was expected on the question of establishing a drafting group to iron out differences between the U. S. proposal and a series of amendments from countries supporting the plan generally.

Only Russia and her supporters have spoken against the plan for a year-around "little assembly" in debate this week and American sources based their optimism on general endorsement from a long list of delegations, including Britain, France and China.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko made it plain yesterday that none of the softening and clarifying amendments would have any effect on Russia. He called the plan illegal and contrary to the U. N. charter and said so far as the assembly scheme was concerned the Soviet union does not have "the word compromise in its glossary."

Gromyko coupled his statement with another sharp attack on the United States and said this move was all part of an American plan to "dictate" world policy. His bitter charges renewed speculation that Russia and her satellites might boycott the "little assembly" should it finally be set up.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Our townsman, Hon. J. Cooper, has left Gettysburg and expects to sail soon from Philadelphia for Liverpool.

Married: On the 17th inst. by the Rev. J. Albert, Mr. Jacob Morrison to Miss Mary Jane Thomas—both of Berwick township.

Fire! Fire! The citizens of Gettysburg favorable to the formation and incorporation of one or more Fire Companies within the Borough, are requested to meet at the courthouse on Saturday evening, the 23d inst., at half past six o'clock.

J. B. McPHERSON,
President of the Town Council,
Oct. 18.

The attention of the citizens of Gettysburg is called to the notice of the President of the Council, relative to the organization of Fire Companies. The season is now here when danger may be apprehended from fire, and it would be well to provide against it by efficient organization.

Valuable Property at Public Sale:
On Saturday the 4th of December, at 12 o'clock M., at the Court-house in Gettysburg, I will sell all my land lying within the Borough of Gettysburg, consisting of a Farm, containing more than Two Hundred Acres, on which are erected a large brick Barn, and good Farm House, Waggon Shed and granaries—There is a large quantity of excellent meadow and 50 acres (more or less) of woodland. Much of the land might be sold as Town Lots, as it fronts on several principal streets. Several Town Lots and other property will be offered for sale at the same time. As I reside at a distance from the property, I am determined to sell it without reserve. The Farm will be sold in two tracts if purchasers desire it.

THADEUS STEVENS,
Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 25.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Torch Light Parade: The demonstration on Friday night, in honor of the Republican victories was in all respects a successful demonstration. The Grant and Wilson club of Gettysburg was out in full force with banners and Chinese lanterns headed by the Gettysburg Cornet Band, and waited at the depot to receive the Grant and Wilson clubs from Hanover and New Oxford. About half past seven the excursion train reached town, with between 200 and 300 Republicans on board, many of them provided with torches, accompanied by the Hanover Cornet Band and a full drum corps.

The scene at the depot on the arrival of the train was a lively one—bands playing—drums beating—torches gleaming—the air ringing with a succession of jubilant hurrahs.

The Clubs were finally got into line and the procession moved through the main streets, marshaled by Dr. T. T. Tate as Chief Marshal. Although no illumination was proposed or attempted, the Republicans generally lit up their residences—some of them presenting a brilliant appearance with artistic displays at windows. The Eagle Hotel, Washington House and Star and Sentinel office, attracted special attention. The various clubs carried a number of banners.

After marching and counter-marching, the procession halted in front of the court-house where Hon. Thomas E. Cochran, of York, delivered an able and effective speech. It was intended to have the speaking in the court-house but on consequence of the large crowd it was found impracticable to do so. As it was Mr. Cochran spoke under difficulties. Most of the audience was wearing with several hours of marching, while the glare of torches and the jubilation incident to the occasion produced more or less confusion. Mr. Cochran, however, held the close attention of his auditors for more than an hour.

D. McConaughy, Esq., followed in a brief but telling speech, when at a late hour, the meeting adjourned.

Today's Talk

The Bible story of the Good Samaritan is a striking one. There were plenty of passersby who paid no attention to the poor fellow who had fallen by the wayside. But there was one who saw, and who did something about it. Tenderly he lifted him to his own horse, gave him light nourishment, and saw that he was cared for.

That Good Samaritan was no relative of that unfortunate human being. He could just as well have passed by, as others did, but he had something fine in his heart. He was touched with pity and consideration for another human being, of like nature to himself. He was one with that one, and his healing kindness was something that brought beauty into the lives of each.

The United States of America is the last nation on this globe that would want war. It has never been adequately prepared for any war in which it has reluctantly engaged. Its free way of life and its world-famous institutions have become an example to the entire world, and the envy of every one of the peoples of nations enslaved and mis-governed. For generations America has been a place of refuge and hope. America has not only given of its treasure, lavishly, to bring about a better world, but it has followed the example of the Good Samaritan to its former enemies—with only the hope in mind that they, too, might enjoy the fruits of freedom and independence, and provide happiness and justice for all their own people.

The United States and her neighbors have no quarrels. They have only occasional misunderstandings that are always settled amicably and peaceably. The dream and desire of America is for a peaceful and happy Europe. As Good Samaritan its people are contributing of their abundance that Europe may live. It has no ulterior purposes behind what it is doing to bring about an orderly and happy state of affairs, from such a condition of chaos. God helping her, America intends to abide by her decision to keep the light of her famous Statue of Liberty ever aflame—"Liberty enlightening the world."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "How to Live a Life."

Just Folks

The Poet of the People

By EDGAR A. GUEST

AT THE ZOO
I watched the monkeys at the zoo,
Engaged in ceaseless bickering.
And in a moment this I knew:
Strongest and cruellest was king.

Highest upon a crag he sat:
Fought every daring challenge made,
Knocking his weaker subjects flat,
And yet, of one of them, afraid!

I think he knew the day would be
(For there was terror in his eyes)
When one, grown stronger than was he,
To seize the place he held would rise.

It seems that even monkeys know,
What long by men has been revealed:
Might, greater might will overthrow,
Who rules by force, to force will yield.

Judge Is Ruled Suicide Victim

CRABAPPLE IS BEAUTIFIER OF SMALL GARDENS

Flowering crab apples comprise a group of small to medium growing ornamental trees that may be moved with good results during this fall planting season. All except small sizes should be moved with a ball of earth around the roots. Following transplanting they need plenty of moisture until the ground freezes. Water them every ten days unless a good rain falls. A rain counts as one watering.

Among the rather large number of species and varieties listed by nurseries, the gardener may select ones having comparatively upright habit of growth or that are amenable to training and heading up to permit using them in close association with shrubs and other plants. There are a number of varieties too broad and robust growing for any but large-scale planting.

Form New Skyline
What is needed most on many home grounds is a small tree growing only fifteen to twenty feet high, that, besides contributing good flowers, fruit and foliage, may be used to form the high points in corners and at intervals along the length of the shrubby border inclosing one or more sides of the garden or lawn. Without them, the skyline of the planting is likely to become flat and uninteresting.

Medium-growing trees used singly or in groups along the edges of the lawn may be placed to strengthen promontories in the curving shrubby border. They also contribute a limited amount of shade over the lawn.

A single row of these trees frequently is all that one side or end of the garden or lawn needs to separate it from the vegetable garden or neighboring property. Garden ways and openings in the garden hedge are strongly framed by a pair of flowering trees. Twin rows of them bordering the garden walk or lawn panel will focus full attention on the gate, entrance way, bench or other architectural detail placed at the end or ends.

The setting for garden shelters and bench sites also may be improved by one or more small flowering trees. They will give a comfortable spot of shade and an adequate background or frame for the structure. Plantings along garden walls and fences, against large expanses of house wall or around tall corners are made more attractive by the height and rounded form of ornamental trees.

Garden Activities For Late October

Rose-planting time is approaching. Roses start making new roots as soon as planted, even though the upper part of the plants are dormant. If your garden schedule calls for roses, order the plants immediately and prepare the beds now.

Make sure that the beds prepared for rose planting receive plenty of seasoned manure or bone meal and humus. Also, ample drainage is important.

Evergreens may be planted now. Fall also is the best time for the planting of lilac bushes. Dig in bone meal or wood ashes around established plants.

Time is here for the planting of all spring-flowering bulbs. Insect attacks on next year's crops may be diminished by cleaning the garden of crop remnants, such as old vines, stalks and decayed vegetables.

When planting tulips and daffodils, dig the holes large enough so that each bulb will rest firmly on the bottom and not hang suspended with air pockets underneath and earth on top.

So, aside an ample supply of soil, sand and peat moss for soaking seeds, indoors during the winter.

Larkspur, cornflowers and other winter hardy annuals may be sown outdoors.

See that all bulbs, tubers and roots stored over the winter are properly checked.
Put up narcissus, hyacinths and other bulbs for indoor forcing. Keep them in a dark place until roots form.

Geraniums may be trimmed back whenever they become too leggy. Early fall or early spring are favorable times for this job.

Place orders for deciduous trees and shrubs to be dug as soon as the leaves start to fall.

was found in the rear seat of his automobile. McClelland said some sleeping tablets were alongside the body and that a hose, attached to the exhaust pipe, ran into the vehicle through a ventilator window.
McClelland had been in poor health the last three years, but continued to carry out his duties. A Democrat, he was elected in 1941 to a ten-year term.

A successor will be named by Gov. James H. Duff and will serve until the end of 1949—year of the next municipal election when a contest will be made for a full 10-year term.

McDonald was born in Reynoldsville, Pa. He worked as an engine dispatcher for the Pennsylvania railroad to earn money for his education. Surviving are the widow, two children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Reynoldsville and a brother and two sisters, including Mrs. Howard Percy, York, Pa.

USEFUL FACTS ABOUT NUT CULTURE

For the ten years from 1920 to 1929, American farms produced around 127 million pounds of nuts annually while we were consuming 235 million pounds a year. Of course, the difference was made up by importations from foreign countries. Over the last six years domestic production has more than doubled, but consumer demands still soar well above domestic production and we are still a nut importing people.

Of course, part of our nut importations consist of cashew, pistache and pignolia nuts which cannot or are not grown in the United States. But the bulk of our dependency on foreign farms for nuts remains among walnuts, chestnuts, pecans and other hardy nuts which can be and should be grown on American farms to enrich American farmers.

One of the principal arguments in favor of this sound course, besides the monetary phase, was illustrated in the American pantry during the recent war. Nuts almost disappeared from the grocer's bins and shelves. And this scarcity still continues.

The average farmer can do much to make us self-sufficient in nuts, especially in hickorynuts, black walnuts, chestnuts, butternuts and hazelnuts (filberts). These grow readily throughout the north and states of central latitudes. The first two yield valuable timber besides their valuable crops. All five fit admirably into the general farm's program in that they thrive along fence rows and in other fertile but non-productive nooks which usually remain idle.

Of course, the native chestnut tree has disappeared from this region because of its susceptibility to blight. But recent improved strains of the Asiatic and Chinese chestnuts are proving hardy and highly productive.

As mentioned in this column several weeks ago, candy manufacturers, ice cream makers, bakers and other allied lines report that demands for products containing black walnut and hickorynuts far outstrip available supplies of these native nuts. And the same is true of English (Persian) walnuts and pecans at prevailing market prices. The same solution of this supply and demand problem is more production. And in this production the general farmer should participate with profit.

Black walnut trees may be grown for both timber and nuts by planting nuts from well developed and productive trees. This can be done before winter or the nuts may be stratified over winter and planting done in late February or early March. Fall planting, however, is preferred. Budded nursery plants should be set out in late fall or late winter for nut growing alone.

The same advice may be applied in growing the hardy shagbark and shellbark hickorynuts.

Blight-resistant strains of chestnut may be set out late this month, during mild periods over winter or in early March. Most nurseries offer suitable trees in their catalogues.

Almost all commercial filberts are grown in Oregon and Washington. But the popularity of our native hazelnut warrants more serious consideration of the improved species of this nut for revenue purposes in this latitude. Well rooted nursery plants should be set out in late February or early March.

Interested readers are invited to write the editor to discuss this general subject. All questions gladly answered.

The actual history of man on the earth has always been and is a record of his struggle to escape famine. We in the United States, where starvation (malnutrition) is frequently disguised behind a bewildering medical term, do not appreciate this fact as keenly as do the millions in vast regions of Europe and Asia. For example, for the past twenty centuries China has suffered at least one major famine a year in some part of her gigantic country. Hundreds of thousands die every year in some parts of India from dire lack of food.

The seriousness of food shortages was emphasized in the writer's mind a few years after the first World War when the leading statesmen were quarreling and bickering over how Europe should be partitioned to guarantee liberty and self-determination among the various racial groups. A peasant Lithuanian woman explained it in these words: "You Americans, because you enjoy life in a democracy, think every other people in the world should have and should want a democratic form of government. We in Lithuania are little concerned whether we live in a democracy or under an autocratic government. Our first concern is—Where can I get something for dinner? What can I find to feed the children in the morning?"

How are continual famines and widespread lack of food harmonized with the claims of technologists who have so long been promising mankind more than plenty—freedom from want?

If the earth's surface was divided equally among all inhabitants, there would be a 60-acre share for every man, woman and child. Of this 60 acres, 45 acres are water and 15 acres are land. Of the 15 acres of land, after mountains, deserts and other waste areas are deducted, there remains only 1 acre of land suitable for potential cropping. Of this acre only one-fifth is actually productive.

Is the threat of potential famine ever present here in the United States?

SMALLER BULBS BOON TO WALLS, ROCK GARDENS

One of the most satisfactory characteristics of bulbs is that one can find kinds and types for such varied forms of gardening—formal beds and borders, natural hillside and woodlands and special kinds of

grounds, one of the most popular of which is the rock garden or rock walls writes Betty Blossom in the New York Herald Tribune.

Wall or rock gardens by their construction and appearance necessarily put a certain limit on the choice of plants which may be used. In the group of bulbous plants, however, there are a great variety to choose from, notably in the small-growing bulbs, of very early spring. These alone are not the only bulbs of rock gardens for there are the various alliums for June bloom, the sternbergias for August and September, and the fall-blooming crocuses and colchicums for September and October.

Small bulbs seem naturally appropriate for use among the dwarf plants which predominate in rock gardens. Also, the situation provides a good locale for many of them, as practically all bulbs require good drainage, and a well constructed piece of rock work will fulfill this need. One precaution to be carefully taken is that there be sufficient soil beneath and over the bulb, so that it will not dry out before it blooms.

Because chrysanthemums bloom at this time of year, they are interesting to combine with autumn foliage, bare branches, pine and other needled and broad-leaved evergreens. Berried shrubs, dried materials and seed pods are other materials to use with them. They bring the brilliant colors of the outdoor garden indoors.

Then too, we commonly ignore the evils of malnutrition and attempt to classify them in a category quite apart from that of famine and starvation. Yet, many authorities on diet claim that at least three-fourths of our people are suffering from malnutrition—lack of sufficient food as well as lack of proper food balances. Dental specialists have estimated that more than 90 per cent of the children in this country are suffering from dietary impairments of the teeth.

And the incontrovertible truth remains that since the late 1920's the farms of the United States have been unable to produce enough food to meet our domestic demands even at the diet levels these opinions reveal. Reduced to conservative figures taken from reliable government sources our food record since 1939:

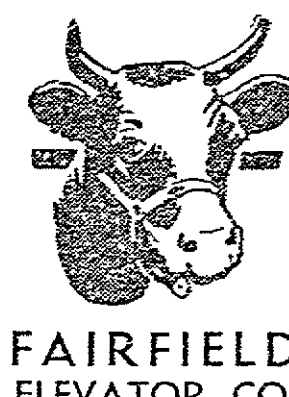

Produced	8,445 billion lbs.
Exported	287 billion lbs.
Remainder (for domestic use)	8,159 billion lbs.
Consumption	8,204 billion lbs.
Shortage	45 billion lbs.

When turning shirt collars, apply press-on tape to the frayed edge at the neck line to make the collar look better and last longer.

or afterward while ripening its foliage. Some bulbs prefer full sun, some light shade, and a few, such as some of the seillas and dog-tooth violets, like a fairly heavy shade. Such conditions may be found in most rock gardens, as they are built in every location from the edge of the wild woods to the open, sunny hillside.

Soil Needs Plenty of Humus
Since soil pockets among rocks tend to be on the small side, it is important that the soil contain plenty of humus, which may be added by using peat moss or leaf-mold compost, if there is not already sufficient present. The hardy bulbs, once set, may be left for many years and additional humus added from time to time to take the place of any soil which may have washed away or had its food value exhausted.

Sure." He put the chair on its up the revolver, threw out the nder and saw that two of its six caliber cartridges had been fired.

rubbed it with his handkerchief, iterating whatever fingerprint ht had been on it, and placed in the desk. He laid a copy of the Rock County telephone direc-ory over the groove in the desk.
I pushed a chair against the wall ere its back hid the hole in the ster.

All evidence destroyed," he re-ted.

"You won't spoil my accident
ry with Ella?"

Certainly not. Who did it?
ane?"

"Crane's in the pulp vat. I'm not e who did it, but it was either
—or Charlie King."

Brant repeated the name incredusly.

He was drunk. He came in, three, and said he saw me throw ane in the log chopper. He wanted 000. I took the gun out of my sk to scare him, and the crazy l grabbed for it. There were two ots, and the first thing I knew I s sitting in this corner and he s on his way out.

"I got up and chased him as far the door, then I had to quit because I knew I was caving in. I ust let it back to the office crawling my hands and knees."

"I'll take care of King for you."

"No, you won't. You'll keep your pith shut, and so will he."

"Ella wouldn't want it that way."

"You idiot!" Mac's voice rose thering volume. "What Ella wants d what is good for her are two ferent things this time. It's bad ugh having her worry about me ting shot, without making her ired and bitter and—"

"Easy," Brant cautioned alarmed-
ly. "The wounded man's vehemence ou're right. You won't have to ry about me. Anyway, you're not ing to die—not when you have enough to yell that loud."

Mac relaxed. "I'm trusting you."

"You know you can." He heard the ter door open. "Here's Doc now."

He called toward the reception on. "In here, Doc! He's lost a lot blood and—"

He stopped in astonishment, seeing that Sperry was not alone. Two gures tottered into the room, one aning heavily against the other.

Sperry croaked. "Somebody take his fool woman off my hands!"

Brant hurried forward and grasp-d Ella. She was a dead weight in s arms. She said faintly, "Don't ind me. I'm all right. How is he?"

He could feel her heart racing nd pounding. He said angrily, "If ou'd come as you were told—" But ity came over him, and he said,
"You were half as tough as you hink you are—" Then he smiled.
"You're all right, and so is Mac. He sn't going to die."

The doctor took his hat and coat
ff. He was a small, wiry man in his forties, with a bald head and horn-rimmed spectacles and a personally harassed expression. He saw away part of Mac's shirt and undershirt with a penknife, removed he blood-drenched towel and looked glumly at the wound.

"How long ago?"

"A little after 11. I was getting eady to go home."

"Who did it?"

"Nobody. I was checking the gun ver, and it went off."

Sperry snorted. "And you a grown an! An inch to the right and you'd e in a warmer climate this minute.
But I guess you'll pull through if you stay in bed and follow orders."

"Thank God!" Ella said. Tears reamed from her eyes.

"I'm going to get rough with you efore I take you for a sleigh ride," sd Sperry. "Think you can stand it?"

"Give me enough liquor and I can stand anything."

Brant said, "He had a little one."
"Hell, give him the whole bottle
f he wants it," the doctor said.
"If a gun can't kill him, whiskey an't. I've got to go after the bullet nd swab out that hole, and it'll hurt."

It did hurt. Brant winced, seeing the spasms of pain cross Mac's ace.

"Got it!" Sperry exclaimed, dropping a hard object on the floor beside the sofa and wiping the long oreps. "She was right smack a-keyboard of her typewriter. Her expression of studied calm vanished, and in its place appeared dismay and shock.

"Mac what?"

"He was fooling with a revolver and came within an inch of killing himself. Sperry says he'll be all right. Ella found him in his office, and he sent her for me."

"Oh, Andy!" Color flowed into her cheeks. "I—I didn't know."

"Of course you didn't. How could you?" She was behaving oddly, he thought. "Hardly anyone knows yet."

"I don't suppose," Quarfield wondered, "there's any chance it wasn't an accident?"

"Do you think he shot himself purposefully?"

"Folks have done it before. And then again, folks have been shot by other folks. There was things said right in this room yesterday about a guy named Crane who might be heading for trouble with Mac."

Brant hung his coat and cap on the rack and stooped to unfasten his overboots. He said, trying to sound casual, "I hope you don't go spreading anything like that around town.
I know what happened, and I can tell you on the level that Crane didn't shoot Mac, and Mac didn't try to commit suicide."

"I don't gossip," Quarfield said sulkily. "You'd think I was an old woman, to hear you talk."

"I was only putting you right, Glenn. Come on—let's go into the shop and see just how much space we're going to have to fill."

Chapter 9

Brant was setting type by hand when Sheriff Ed Worth came into the printing shop, his blue eyes more watchful than usual, his lined face sterner.

"Quite a bit of snow, Andy," he remarked.

Brant's heart sank, but he strove to appear cheerful. "I thought I noticed some on my way to work."

"It was a bad night, they tell me—wind blowing and all that. I hear it was real chilly a little after midnight."

"It was, Ed. I know, because I was out."

The sheriff shook a doleful head.
"People getting shot, and everything."

"Were you over to see him?"

"I stopped by, but he was asleep.
Andy, what about Ralston Crane?"

So it was going to have to be discussed, after all. Brant sighed. "I don't know anything except that a man named Rigby is up from Detroit looking for him."

"I know that much. Rigby isn't telling his business, and Crane didn't get back to the hotel all night."

"He's not the only one. The saloons kept open house."

"Crane didn't show up at any of the saloons or at Gene Giebb's poolroom. I called at Maggie Turk-er's on a hunch, but the old girl was alone."

"I can't help you, Ed."

Worth took off his fur hat and massaged his gray hair with a fur mitten. "Mac told Ella and Sperry he shot himself by accident."

"I know. He was checking his gun and—"

"And it went off twice, which is a downright funny thing for a revolver to do accidentally. One bullet cut across the desk and hit the wall.
Doc admits there was something queer about the one that got Mac.
If he was holding the gun there ought to be powder burns on his clothes or his skin, but there wasn't.
The bullet went in at a downward angle, which means he must of been holding the gun high up in front of him."

"I wouldn't know about that."

"Then there's that double trail of blood in the reception room. Why would he go to the door after he was shot, and then go back?"

"That's easy. He wanted to get home, or perhaps he help from the mill. But he decided he couldn't make it. He went back to his office because there was a sofa he could lie down on."

"Uh-huh." Worth looked at the floor and at the ceiling. "I don't suppose you'll do it, Andy, but I wish you'd tell me why you're so set on covering up things about this shooting."

"What do you mean, covering up?"

"When I got to Mac's office his chair was pushed against that hole in the wall and the phone book was over the bullet mark on the desk.
Ella didn't do those things. She told me a chair was tipped over when she got there the first time. Doc didn't do any cleaning up. As far as I know you were the only other person alone with Mac."

There was a glint of admiration in Brant's eyes as he looked at Worth.
The sheriff had never been trained in police methods, yet in his native shrewdness he missed nothing of importance.

"I did rearrange things a bit," Brant confessed. "I had a hunch Ella would be along with Doc Sperry. If she hadn't noticed the mess before—and I figured she might have been too excited to pay attention to anything but Mac—I thought it would be just as well if she didn't notice at all. But if I had really wanted to cover up I'd have got some putty and paint and done a job on those bullet marks, and changed one of those empty cartridges in the revolver for a good one after Sheriff's chamber."

The sheriff's face crinkled in a friendly way. "You know, Andy: you grew up to be a right smart boy.
Mac's lucky to have you for a friend. I'm his friend, too, but when something happens that doesn't look right, I'm duty bound to look into it, no matter if it does concern the

Alliance Loses
On Interception

Erie, Pa., Oct. 20 (AP)—A pass interception and a thrilling lateral pass in the final three minutes gave the St. Vincent Bearcats a 13-6 football victory over Alliance college yesterday before a slim crowd of 3,900.

With the score tied 6-6 and Alliance threatening, Al Pishneri pulled in an Alliance pass on his own 20. He ran to midfield and, when about to be hemmed in, tossed a lateral to Quarterback Nick Puskar who streaked the remaining distance.

most prominent citizen we got." He was abruptly stern again. "If there's been a criminal shooting. I want to find out about it. Sperry says Mac is apt to die. That talk of yours about murder and that talk of Carol's about Crane has got me thinking. I don't mind saying, in view of what's happened, I don't like it a bit."

He turned toward the door, leaving Brant frowning after him, not liking it either.

In the space of a few hours Brant's world had narrowed to a handful of people and his emotions had grown in intensity as they shrank in focus. John Macfarlane might be dying and Ella was frightened and bewildered, and the two of them commanded all his affections.
Ralston Crane, who in some manner had brought evil into their lives, was quite possibly dead—killed hor-ribly by Mac in a burst of unreasoning rage—and Charlie King, the drunken mill hand, had become a sinister figure overnight. In the background Peter Rigby made a morose and unlovely question mark.

Brant's instincts warned that it was not ended. He realized that he had known in some mysterious manner, ever since the blizzard struck, that danger lay ahead. His first thoughts when the trapped and hemmed-in feeling of the storm came over him had been of violence, as if a sensitive receiver in his brain had responded to threatening vibrations. He had joked about it with Worth, but then Carol had told of seeing Ella weeping on Crane's shoulder, and it had ceased to be a joking matter.

BRITISH TAKE PRECAUTIONS
WITH WEDDING

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The extent of the politico-social up-caval which is sweeping the world is strikingly illustrated in British officialdom's quietly spoken but nevertheless sensational announcement that plans for Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten to drive through central London, so the crowds could see them after the forthcoming wedding, have been cancelled to safeguard the heiress apparent to the throne.

Scotland Yard and the cabinet feel that such a ride would involve risks ("doubtless remote") which shouldn't be taken. The risks aren't specified, but they are self-explanatory in these days when political passions are producing violence and death in many countries.

England and her friends are shocked by this shadow of threat to her charming princess. It has been long since that tight little isle of democracy has known anything like this. Up until the late war the British royal family moved about freely, and mingled with crowds, even as you and I. Frequently, too, their protection was confined to a small and more or less invisible escort.

Crowd To See Them

During the many years this correspondent had headquarters in London, it was a common sight to see Queen Mary and other members of the royal house shopping, or motoring through the streets.

Despite the cancellation of the post-wedding drive, thousands will have a chance to see the bride and groom as they ride from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey and back over a route of less than a mile. However, Scotland Yard will take extreme precautions to safeguard that journey. As is the custom, windows in buildings along the way will be rented to parties for great sums, and the police will know the identity of every person in those windows. Naturally the street will be equally well watched.

GATHER FACTS
FOR CONGRESS
ON EUROPE AID

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Truman administration marshaled a vast array of figures today designed to prove to Congress and the nation that this country can export the food, fuel and machinery western Europe is seeking for its proposed recovery program.

A report from Secretary of the Interior Krug, released by the White House, stated emphatically that the United States will be able to deliver the goods for a $20,000,000,000 aid program without impairing American resources.

Some shortages will result, "but it is impossible to make a case that the proposed aid program will have a serious impact upon our economy," Krug said, "from the standpoint of day-to-day drain, the export program is just not consequential."

Krug asserted, however, that to assure success of the undertaking this country must save grain, retain export controls to make certain shipments reach the most needy countries and gear production and transportation facilities to a high rate.

On Capitol Hill, Republicans gen-knowledge that the best protection possible will be accorded the girl who may one day be queen in her own right. Still, as previously indicated, it is a forceful commentary on our harsh times that such precautions have to be taken.

Killed In Crash
Of Training Plane

Towanda, Pa., Oct. 20 (AP)—A small training plane crashed on a farm ten miles west of here, killing Phillip Allen, 21, and injuring Miles Bacon, 20.

A spokesman at the Ross Flying Service at Towanda airport said Allen was the pilot and he had obtained his license about three weeks ago.

Bacon, a passenger in the plane, is in Sayre, Pa., hospital with multiple fractures.

Two youths, Russell Chaffee and Diane Brown, said Allen was "flying straight" yesterday when a sudden high wind virtually stalled the plane and threw it into a tailspin.
The craft hit a hillside and was demolished.

In the six months since the Frazer Man-thousands of men and women have become proud owners of these newest of fine cars.

These people were used to quality automobiles, for among the cars they turned in was every leading American make—and several world-famous foreign models. That these new owners like the Frazer Manhattan is best indicated by the way they send their every Frazer Manhattan sale made is the result of an owner's recommendation!

The Frazer Manhattan is today America's

He urged the scouts to "go back to your own communities, to your home and be a light to others. You must give good example to others by your love of God and your country." To the leaders of the scouts Father Loszewski said, "Teach them to appreciate the God-given rights of freedom in this blessed land of ours. Surely no other work has more far-reaching effect upon the future of the earth and Christ's kingdom."
